

Calling all young entrepreneurs!

Inspire young people with The Unreasonable Speakers Network

Are you a young entrepreneur, aged 18-25, leading a new business, charity or social enterprise?

Are you keen to improve your public speaking and story-telling skills?

How would you like to inspire young people in schools to become leaders and change-makers?

Join The Unreasonables!

We're The Unreasonables, a team of "unreasonable", sharp and experienced young adults who are passionate about helping young people become leaders, disrupt the norm, and create positive change for themselves and others. We develop cultures of leadership across the UK's top schools through the delivery of our inspirational programmes. Our leadership offerings to schools vary from introductory course, 'Debunking the Leadership Myth', to longer-term learning journeys for prefects and student leaders. At the heart of our mission is helping young people unlock their leadership potential.

Become a Role Model for Young Leaders

We are looking for confident and enthusiastic young entrepreneurs from a variety of backgrounds to speak with us in schools as part of our acclaimed introductory programme, 'Debunking the Leadership Myth.'

In our eyes, as a young entrepreneur - whether your venture is established, growing or just starting out - you are the perfect role model for young leaders. Your stories and experiences are a powerful testament to the fact that leaders are made, not born. Whether you recognise it or not, you have leadership attributes by the bucket-load - vision, ambition, courage, decision-making and resilience, to name just a few. With training and support from our team, you will be able to articulate these qualities by telling your story, and inspire young people to make some change of their own. . .

"The reasonable man* adapts himself to the world; the unreasonable one persists to adapt the world to himself. Therefore all progress depends on the unreasonable man*." - George Bernard Shaw

*Or woman, obviously.

What's in it for me?

- Training with The Unreasonables Lead Trainers - Taking your public speaking and story-telling skills to the next level, as well as supporting you to work effectively with young audiences
- £200 to a good cause - Each time you speak with The Unreasonables, we will donate £200 in your name to a charity of your choice
- A captive audience - You will be given a platform to inspire and challenge hundreds of young people to be bold, to be innovative and to create change.
- Travel expenses will be paid in full
- Membership of our network - You will become part of The Unreasonable Speakers Network, an active community of like-minded entrepreneurs and educators, with opportunities to learn together, share best practice, and have a laugh, too.

I'm in! How do I apply?

Email us at hello@TheUnreasonables.org with the subject line 'Speaker Application', by 5th August 2016, including a short paragraph (50-100 words) describing what you do, and why you're keen to be an Unreasonable Speaker.

We actively encourage entrepreneurs from all backgrounds and levels of experience to apply, so if you have any questions, drop us a line to the address above. We can't wait to hear from you.

"The reasonable man* adapts himself to the world; the unreasonable one persists to adapt the world to himself. Therefore all progress depends on the unreasonable man*." - George Bernard Shaw

*Or woman, obviously.